THE LATEST NUMBERS: NEW TARIFFS HITTING MICHIGAN ECONOMY HARD

- According to the most recent data, Michigan businesses paid $136 million in tariffs on products subject to Trump Administration tariffs in December. That is about 10 times the tariffs paid on those same products in December 2017.
- Since new tariffs were imposed, Michigan businesses have paid an extra $674 million in import tariffs.
- Since the trade war began, Michigan exports have faced $341 million in new retaliatory tariffs from our trading partners, including $47 million in December. These tariffs make Michigan less competitive. In December, Michigan exports subject to retaliation dropped by 21%.

President Trump should successfully negotiate with our trading partners and end these costly and harmful tariffs. Michigan jobs are on the line.
